The Challenge

As the company believes that innovative printing technologies are crucial to win the market of their local area, they know that it is very important to make the right choice in their anilox equipment. The Solution

In 2010, Asahi Danbo-Ru Company installed GTT CORR rolls in their High Quality printing machine. They chose for a combination of 2 GTT CORR L rolls and a conventional 250LPI anilox roll.

The Benefits

Since the installation of GTT in 2010, they never had any clogging problems with their daily cleaning. Moreover, they achieved very good results due to stability of the ink viscosity and productivity. Their printing results show a high valuation on the strong solid and the fine details.
